Decorative Dahlias

Decorative dahlias are ideal for borders, landscape and are the best choice for cut flowers. They also perform very well in u-pick gardens! This class features tall-growing, double blooming dahlias with round, medium-sized flowers. They are available in a wide range of shapes and colors.

Dahlias will bloom abundantly from mid-summer until first frost while constantly producing new blooms. All of our Dahlias are grown in the Netherlands and are of the highest quality!

Decorative Dahlias are available in both bulk and retail packaging.

Winter hardy in USDA zones 8-11. All dahlias must be lifted before first frost and stored indoors for replanting the next spring season.

All Dahlias are deer & rodent resistant.

Dinnerplate Dahlias

Dinnerplate dahlias are our most popular class. They are both classic and decorative, but it is their massive blooms that truly set them apart. These impressively large flowers can grow up to 12 inches in diameter!

Impressive border plants and well suited for cut-flowers. Place dinnerplate dahlias in a sunny spot and stake the plants, to protect the heavy blooms from wind and rain.

Winter hardy in USDA zones 8-11. All dahlias must be lifted before first frost and stored indoors for replanting the next spring season.

All Dahlias are deer & rodent resistant.

Cactus Dahlias

Cactus dahlias are a great fit for landscape, cut flowers and are the best choice for borders. This class grows tall and features double blooms that can grow up to 8 inches in diameter. Their narrow, tubular petals give Cactus dahlias a truly distinctive look.

We have also added some Fimbriata varieties to this category! These dahlias produce an abundance of soft, fuzzy petals that add a new dimension to any border!

Cactus dahlias must be planted in a sunny location and remember to deadhead spent flowers in order to stimulate the growth of new blooms.

Winter hardy in USDA zones 8-11. All dahlias must be lifted before first frost and stored indoors for replanting the next spring season.

All Dahlias are deer & rodent resistant.

Specialty Dahlias

New additions to our assortment this year!

Collarette and Anemone dahlias are gaining in popularity, and we can definitely see why!

These specialty dahlias are a lovely addition to the garden, wonderfully complementing many other types of flowers.

Slightly shorter in height, they are best placed at the front of borders.

These varieties are beloved by both bees and butterflies!

All Dahlias are deer & rodent resistant.

Gallery & Melody Dahlias

Gallery and Melody dahlias are single-flowering and compact with large flowers. These low growers are best suited for pots, but would also do well in front borders or beds.

They bloom for 3-4 months and produce new flowers throughout the season.

Our Gallery and Melody dahlias are only available in bulk.

All Dahlias are deer & rodent resistant.

Cannas

Canna bulbs are tropical flowering plants known for providing large, colorful blooms that thrive in the summer heat. They feature strong stems and large leaves.

Plant canna bulbs in the spring when soil temperatures reach 60 degrees. Cannas planted in USDA zones 8 and warmer can be left in the ground all winter.

Plant horizontally with the eyes facing up and cover with 4" of soil. Cannas can bloom well into the fall in many parts of the USA and Canada.

Deer & rodent resistant.

Begonias

Belgian Begonias are ideal for pots, containers and hanging baskets. Featuring attractive foliage and numerous large, fragrant flowers that measure up to 6" in diameter. Samba Begonias are characterized by upright fringed double flowers. The Superba types produce the largest, 4-6" blooms in bright colors. Odorata Begonias are also called Sweet Begonias, and have fragrant hanging blooms.

Plant in March with the hollow side up, just below the soil. Begonias prefer a light, warm spot. Flower from July - November.

Callas

Calla lilies (or Zantedeschia), produce multiple distinct, trumpet-like flowers and are very versatile.

They are suitable for borders, containers, cut flowers, landscape and pots. Winter hardy in USDA zones 8-10.

Deer & rodent resistant. Bulbs can be potted indoors a month prior to planting in the garden.

In colder zones they can be grown as annuals, or harvested in the fall for replanting in the spring season.

Lilies

Our diverse selection of lilies is well suited for pots, cut-flowers and landscape use. Hardy in zones 3-8.

Asiatic lilies are the earliest to bloom producing 3-5 flowers per stem. Well suited for pots and cut flowers.

Martagon lilies can grow 3-4' tall, with up to 20 blooms per stem with recurved petals.

Oriental lilies feature giant, upward facing blooms with intense fragrance.

OT Hybrid lilies are a cross derived from Oriental and Trumpet varieties.

Combines the fragrance and shape of an Oriental with the strength and robustness of a Trumpet.

Trumpet lilies bloom in mid summer and feature 3-5 flowers per stem.

Tiger lilies are very hardy and feature large, freckled blooms with recurved petals.
